

1 MARCH 2024: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Dear Parents, Carers and Guardians

"It is what you read when you don't have to, that determines what you will be when you can't help it." Oscar Wilde seems an appropriate place to start the Bulletin this week as the School dives into the world of literature and books ahead of World Book Day next Thursday.

Whilst literature takes a grip over the School and forms are taking part in the 'decorate your door challenge', Staff came together on Thursday break time in the newly refurbished library. They discussed books to discuss books and put their recommendations for pupils onto the reading tree that was built by our own DT department. My choice was Terry Pratchett, as I'm currently re-reading the books with my daughter and enjoying introducing her to the Discworld novels. I am also a long-term subscriber to the boots theory - "A man who could afford fifty dollars had a pair of boots that'd still be keeping his feet dry in ten years, while the poor man who could only afford cheap boots would have spent a hundred dollars on boots in the same time and would still have wet feet." Men at Arms, Terry Pratchett.

This week has seen the publication of the national schools' A-Level results tables by the DfE, and I am very pleased to be able to share that Truro School is the Number 1 A-Level ranking school in Cornwall. I'd like to say a tremendous well done to all of the students, staff and families for their hard work and excellent results in bringing about such a positive conclusion to their time here at Truro School. Of course, raw results only tell part of the story, and our continued success at finding pathways that an fit individual's ambitions and aspirations is remarkable.

In other updates, I attended the Cornwall Chamber of Commerce Big Breakfast this week as we are scheduled to host the annual Business Conference here at Truro School in July this year. This will be a really good opportunity for us to provide networking opportunities and support to Cornish businesses and employers. At the Big Breakfast, there were some good presentations including an update for the opening in June of the new A30. I'm sure we are all looking forward to this significant milestone in the transport infrastructure for Cornwall, and if the aim is for June, we will aim for an even more predictable transport service for the next academic year. We continue to review our more local transport arrangements, and I must ask for all of your assistance around the School for drop-offs and collections so we minimise disruption to our neighbours where we can – thank you for your support in this area. We continue to work with Truro City Council to input suggestions and plans for improvements. In terms of our wider transport service, our Vectare booking service is fully up and running and is available for both regular and flexible bookings as you may need. Read more at <https://www.truroschoo.com/parents/transport/>

Since my last bulletin where I provided some of the financial payment options and support that the School provides, I wanted to say that we are continuing to work hard on our financial sustainability, and at this time of year, we look forward to the budgeting cycle. Our usual approach is to write ahead of the start of the Summer term with our updates and progress for next year, and we will continue to do this. We will also keep you updated as and when aware of any significant changes locally or nationally that affect you or us, including as a result of factors within or beyond the School's ability to control. We do have an existing fees in advance payment scheme. If this is something you would like to discuss further, please contact the finance team through salesledger@truroschoo.com

There will be more next week about the reading activities including the results of the 'decorate your door challenge'.

Finally, there are not many truer words to end this bulletin with than Dr Seuss: "The more that you read, the more things you will know. The more that you learn, the more places you'll go."

Have a great weekend,
Mr K Topping

1 MARCH 2024: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Lockdown Practice - Warning

Every School has to have procedures in place to protect pupils and staff from incidents on the school grounds. Most familiar is a fire drill where we manage careful exit from buildings. A different scenario is a Lockdown and next week we will be practicing our Lockdown procedures. We will be focussing on introducing the concept of Lockdown to pupils who have joined school since the last rehearsal and refreshing those pupils who were here on what action they will need to take in the event of a Lockdown as opposed to actually practicing it. We have scheduled it for during lesson time so that the majority of pupils and staff will be inside buildings, which will reduce confusion and the impact on any lessons.

All pupils will receive advance warning on Monday of the practice that will happen later in the week, which will include how it is going to be notified and what to do if they are not in a building. We will be playing pre-recorded messages over the School Bell system, which will make it very clear that it is a test.

The majority of buildings in the school now have access control installed so it is really important that all pupils have the ability to get into a building. We are aware that currently some pupils do not bring their band to school. Please therefore remind your child/children to bring their band to school. If they have lost it they need to go the Front Office to get a new one.

We would like to stress that this is not in response to any threat towards Truro School and we will be making this very clear to all our pupils too. It is just a practice that we have not done for a while. We will have members of staff located around the school to act as observers and they will assist any pupils who are outside when it is activated.

We hope that with this awareness is of reassurance to you and your children about the week ahead and the steps the School takes to promote ongoing safety on site. If your child has any concerns or questions, please direct them to their Form Tutor who will be happy to help.

Kind Regards

Charlie Fraser
Operations Manager

Careers Week

Information about next week's National Careers Week will be shared with pupils via Form Tutors. Tutors will also be using this time to lead discussions and explore different careers. A reminder that all pupils can access the Careers Resources via the Careers Team (joining code 611laq5).

World Book Day

World Book Day 2024 is Thursday 7 March. To promote and celebrate reading within Truro School we will be running a "Decorate Your Door as a Book" competition. Each Form Group (and any department that wishes to participate) will choose a book and decorate the door to their form room to represent the book they have chosen. The doors will be judged by the Senior Prefect Team during World Book Day and prizes will be awarded to the winning form/forms.

We will also be running a "Get Caught Reading" competition all week. Any pupil caught reading at an appropriate time eg at break times or when waiting for their teacher to arrive for form time/next lesson etc will be given a raffle ticket that they will then need to bring to the library to be entered into a prize draw. Good luck and happy reading!

Sixth Form Celebrates No.1 Ranking

Truro School Sixth Form is celebrating after the latest official Department for Education A-Level performance tables have been released, once again placing Truro School as the leading A-Level provider in Cornwall.

Commenting on this achievement, Andy Johnson, Head of Truro School paid tribute to the staff and students. He said, "We congratulate all who worked so hard to achieve this outcome. As a school, we strive to have a deeper and longer-lasting impact on the young people we have the privilege to educate than just their academic results, but those results matter, and we are extremely proud of all the students who achieved them. I am also grateful to the dedicated staff who strive to deliver the most rigorous, exciting, and empowering educational journey in the region, through our unique Diploma programme at Sixth Form, ensuring students can feel they belong and are given the opportunity to thrive."

Unearthing Cornwall's Past

Dr Sam Hughes, senior geology lecturer from Camborne School of Mines, University of Exeter, guided students through Cornwall's 400 million-year geological history, uniquely contextualising their GCSE and A-level syllabi within the region's geological past. Dr. Hughes shared his passion for the subject and shed light on the diverse career opportunities available in the county. During his fascinating presentation, he underscored the educational pathways available in geology at Camborne School of Mines. Miss Hope thanked Dr Hughes for his talk and commended him for broadening students' horizons and highlighting potential future prospects for geology students post-A-Level.

Introducing our Resident Artist

We are excited to introduce Rachael Coward as our 'artist in residence' at Truro School. This role allows Rachael to immerse herself in the Art Department, allowing her to develop and share her expertise further within the school community. Rachael has a small, dedicated studio space where she works on installation, printmaking, and book works. Her interests lie in heritage, language, thresholds and place, and she is developing new skills in ceramics.

"Rachael's expertise in installation brings a unique perspective to the school, enriching the learning experience for pupils. She engages with sixth-formers, helping critique their work and sharing insights from her practice." <https://www.truroschoo.com/latest-news/introducing-rachael-coward-artist-in-residence/>

A Slice of Cake and a Good Read

As a part of Truro School's World Book Day Celebrations (which will culminate in World Book Day next week on Thursday 7 March), staff at Truro School were invited to Cake Thursday in the Library at break time.

The initiative was set up by the Library Team to encourage staff to explore the newly refurbished space. It was also a chance for staff to recommend and share their favourite reads. Picks including 'A White Merc with Fins' by James Hawes and Roald Dahl's 'The Enormous Crocodile' were amongst those books written onto 'leaves' and added to the Library's reading tree; a beautiful wooden carving crafted by Mr Baker and the DT Team on the CNC router. <https://www.truroschoo.com/latest-news/a-slice-of-cake-and-a-good-read/>

Geographers Explore Plymouth

Our Lower Sixth Geography students embarked on an educational trip to Plymouth this week, exploring areas including the Royal William Yard, Barbican, and the West End. Engaging in hands-on learning, they surveyed local residents, measured traffic flow, and observed the volume of people in various locations.

Through their detailed observations, they described the distinct environments of each area, noting differences in architecture, atmosphere, and amenities. Additionally, the students characterised businesses based on their products and services, gaining insights into the local economy and commercial landscape.

An Unforgettable Jazz Concert

In an evening brimming with talent and emotion, Truro School's music department put on an unforgettable showcase of jazz performances. The event, held in the Burrell Theatre, saw Old Truronians, current musicians, parents and staff coming together to celebrate Mr Thompson's final Jazz Concert with Truro School.

Throughout the night, Mr Thompson's influence and passion for Jazz music were palpable. Truro School Head, Mr Johnson, noted that the pupils clearly enjoyed playing just as much as the audience enjoyed listening.

Partnership and Legacy

Local artists, educators and members of the Truro School community gathered together on Saturday for the private viewing of 'The Truro School Art Collection Goes on an Outing'.

Over 80 guests attended, including some of the artists whose works are featured in the Collection. It was a huge delight to welcome David Heseltine, former Head of Art at Truro School, without whom the Collection would not exist and whose 30-year legacy with the school has left a profound impact on the careers and lives of many in the Truro School Community and beyond.

School Colours

You may have heard your child talking about school colours. I wanted to share with you what these are and how and when they will be awarded.

Colours are awarded for representing co-curricular areas of school life, recognising loyalty and dedication together with a major commitment and contribution to a co-curricular area. They are a permanent recognition of an outstanding achievement.

Colours are split into three age groups: Junior Colours; Middle Colours; and Sixth Form Colours. The next page explains this in more detail. It can also be viewed here > School-Colours-Criteria-for-Awards.pdf \(truroschoo.com\). Towards the end of this academic year, you will receive further communication through your child of how and when these will be presented. Junior Colours will be awarded to 2nd Year pupils, Middle Colours will be awarded to 5th Year Pupils and Sixth Form Colours will be awarded to Upper Sixth Students.

Kind regards, Mrs Zoe Jobling
Deputy Head (Co-Curriculum & Partnerships)

CRITERIA FOR AWARDS

Colours are awarded for representing co-curricular areas of school life, recognising loyalty and dedication together with a major commitment and contribution to a co-curricular area. They should be a permanent recognition of an outstanding achievement. There are three types of school colours:

Junior Colours

Awarded to 2nd Year pupils

Covering commitment across the 1st & 2nd Year

Junior Colours: Blue Lapel Badge

These should be awarded towards the end of the appropriate term in the 2nd Year and should be in recognition of:

- Sustained commitment, displaying loyalty and dedication
- The attainment of dedication to performance throughout the 1st & 2nd Year
- A positive attitude to playing and performing, as requested
- A positive role model and being an ambassador for Truro School

Pupils, who may have joined the school part way through the 1st – 2nd Year, who have made an outstanding contribution and demonstrated the criteria described above, may also be awarded Junior Colours, as decided by the department leader.

Middle Colours

Awarded to 5th Year pupils

Covering commitment across the 3rd, 4th & 5th Year

Middle Colours: Silver Lapel Badge

These should be awarded towards the end of the appropriate term in the 5th Year and should be in recognition of:

- Sustained commitment, displaying loyalty and dedication
- The attainment of dedication to performance throughout the 3rd, 4th & 5th Year
- A positive attitude to playing and performing, as requested
- A positive role model and being an ambassador for Truro School

Pupils, who may have joined the school part way through the 4th – 5th Year, who have made an outstanding contribution and demonstrated the criteria described above, may also be awarded Middle School Colours, as decided by the department leader.

Sixth Form Colours

Awarded to Upper Sixth Students

Covering commitment across the Lower Sixth & Upper Sixth

Senior Colours: Gold Lapel Badge

These should be awarded towards the end of the appropriate term in the Upper Sixth and should be in recognition of:

- Sustained commitment, displaying loyalty and dedication
- The attainment of dedication to performance throughout the Lower Sixth and Upper Sixth
- A positive attitude to playing and performing, as requested
- A positive role model and being an ambassador for Truro School

Notes:

Lunchtime club 1 runs from 1pm-1.30pm. All pupils will then go to lunch at 1.35pm, or a teacher will pre-order and supervise the eating of packed lunches
Lunchtime club 2 runs from 1.30pm-2pm. All pupils will have lunch following the rota, or a teacher will pre-order and supervise the eating of packed lunches
There are no early lunch passes due to the volume of pupils involved in clubs.

IMPORTANT COOKERY CLUB INFORMATION: Cookery clubs on a Monday and Tuesday run from 1600 to 1730 in the cookery school. All ingredients and takeaway containers will be provided and there will be a charge for a full term of 11 lessons of £132 (£12 per session) which will be charged in arrears on the school bill. To reserve a space please email cookeryclubs@truroschool.com clearly stating the name of the pupil, year group, cookery club name and importantly any special dietary allergies or requirements. Please be aware that the cookery school is not a nut free environment, and whilst recipes can sometimes be adapted we cannot ensure that the cookery school is free of nuts.
