

15 MARCH 2024: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Dear Parents, Carers and Guardians

This week's whole school assembly was all about celebrating achievement, leadership and positive role models. We were pleased to introduce our new scholars and senior prefects, as well as recognising our latest values award winners who continue to impress us with their courageous actions.

At Truro School, scholarships reflect a child's commitment, engagement, ability and talent and it was a pleasure to announce our 2024 scholars. Scholarships are not simply given for being the most successful but for a scholarly approach in its best meaning – of dedication, passion, and curiosity. These are qualities we seek to nurture at Truro School and our scholars will be supported in their journey by our Enrichment and Scholarship Coordinator.

Leadership and responsibility are two other values introduced early on and then developed during Sixth Form, where we expect students to become encouraging leaders and contribute positively to school life.

Since the start of September, our Lower Sixth students have been working to become subject prefects – ambassadors for their departments and leaders for the whole school. Applying to be a prefect is no easy task, with the process seeking to find the very best role models for our school. It was a pleasure to announce and celebrate this year's cohort of subject prefects. We do not doubt that they will continue to embody the leadership skills of role models and develop skills which can enable positive change.

Elsewhere this week, Truro School has been bustling with activity and excitement. Our Wednesday afternoon physicists enjoyed an engaging trip to Porthcurno Museum, while our German pupils took part in the Osterieierbaum tradition of decorating eggs. The UCAS discovery day provided valuable insights for students exploring their future paths and Dr Vardy's RS conference sparked thought-provoking discussions, while EPQ presentations showcased the impressive research and critical thinking skills of our students. On the sports front, our teams have demonstrated exceptional sportsmanship and skill in various competitions. We also welcomed international boarding agents and today we have the pleasure of hosting an esteemed author. Please read on to find out more about each of these events.

I wish you a refreshing and happy weekend,

Rob Murphy

EPQ Showcase

Our audience was in for a real treat this week, as they enjoyed the Extended Project Qualification (EPQ) Showcase evening. The EPQ is an established A-Level programme that equips students with a range of professional, academic and personal skills.

From researching to referencing; discussing to creating; each student's project is a unique venture into a personalised area of interest. Students select one project from an option of four (artefact, dissertation, investigation and performance) and delve into a defined area of enquiry. After completing their projects, they are required to present their work to a non-specialist audience, where they present their work before taking questions from the audience on their subject. This year we enjoyed topics including creating a fragrance, looking at whether the U.S. drug policy should be reformed, and if psychology is a limiting factor of space exploration.

Physics - Global Communications

The WAA Physics Club recently visited the PK Porthcurno Museum of Global Communications to learn about the history of the Cable & Wireless Company and its pivotal role in revolutionising global communications.

Throughout the tour, pupils engaged with interactive displays that brought to life the physics principles they had been studying in the classroom.

Through hands-on demonstrations and insightful explanations, the pupils developed an appreciation for the electromagnetic devices that transmit signals worldwide and the advancements that have shaped the modern world of telecommunications.

Eggs for Our Ostereierbaum

1st and 2nd Years have been getting creative in their German lessons to create two beautiful Ostereierbaum, or German Easter trees. A much loved German Easter tradition, the Ostereierbaum is made from a few young branches of spring blossom trees placed in a vase or container. The branches are then decorated with wooden or blown-out egg ornaments.

Our pupils have been carefully decorating their delicate blown eggs in German lessons. Once dried, these colourful creations have been hung on the 'trees' along with silken ribbons and garlands. The trees can be seen in the Senior School Reception and Chapel. Thanks to Mrs Srikanthan and the gardening team for their work in getting these beautiful decorations made.

Money, Marx and the Almighty

Our A-Level RS conference, titled 'Money, Marx, and the Almighty,' took place in the Burrell Theatre.

We were privileged to have Dr Peter Vardy, a distinguished British theologian and author known for his work on religion and ethics, lead three insightful seminars for A-Level students. His engaging talks covered business ethics, Marxist Liberation Theology, and philosophical perspectives on the concept of God. The day concluded with stimulating debates, during which Dr Vardy awarded copies of his latest books as prizes.

We were thrilled to also welcome A-Level students from Camborne and Newquay Tretherras, who joined us for this event. We sincerely thank Dr Vardy for inspiring us with his expertise and passion for these subjects, leaving us with a much deeper understanding of these subjects and a curiosity to learn more.

Pupils Join Design Workshop

4th and 5th Year pupils interested in pursuing careers in architecture and design were invited to a meeting with the Senior School Leadership Team (SSLT) and Tate and Co. the architectural team behind the new music project.

During the workshop, pupils engaged in detailed discussions on various elements, including flooring, wall finishes, acoustic requirements, and lighting considerations. The team from Tate and Co. provided insights into a selection of materials to achieve the desired sound quality, sustainability goals and budget. Additionally, they explored specific lighting ideas to enhance visual effects and performance, ensuring that the new space meets the diverse needs of the School users.

UCAS Discovery Day

Lower Sixth attended the UCAS Discovery Event at Westpoint Arena in Exeter. The event featured over 100 university stands, allowing students to engage in one-on-one discussions with representatives from various universities. Additionally, seminars and interactive "course try" sessions were available, offering insights on university applications and showcasing a diverse range of undergraduate courses, including opportunities in Armed Forces, game design, traditional programs, apprenticeships, and degree apprenticeships.

This event is a key component of the post-18 pathway support program, which becomes more intensive in the spring term and culminates in post-18 options days in June. To assist students in their research and application processes, they participate in fortnightly diploma sessions focused on their applications, understanding student finance, transitioning to independent living, securing student accommodation, and other relevant topics.

International Boarding Agents

We were delighted to welcome thirteen international boarding agents to our school, representing a diverse range of countries, including China, Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Taiwan, Germany, Turkey, Switzerland and Ukraine. It was a fantastic opportunity to showcase the vibrant atmosphere and enriching experiences on offer at Truro School.

The agent delegates were visiting us as part of a BBSN-organised trip to showcase the best of British boarding. Throughout their visit, our guests had the chance to immerse themselves in various aspects of school life. From watching engaging presentations at the EPQ evening to hands-on culinary experiences in our Cookery School.

A Day With Author, Wyl Menmuir

Our pupils were excited to welcome renowned, local author Wyl Menmuir, who recently won the Roger Deakin award for his book The Draw of the Sea. Throughout the day Wyl ran a series of workshops focusing on senses and feelings to get the pupils thinking about their surroundings.

Wyl also announced the winners of the Wyl Menmuir Writing Competition, where 2nd Year pupils had the chance to write their own version of what the sea means to them. Congratulations to all our runners up, who got the chance to take home a copy of Wyl's book, but there could only be one overall winner and, with that, we'd like to congratulate Gabriel O for his piece which mixed generic with specific and a personal ending that really impressed Wyl. A huge thank you to Wyl for taking the time to spend the day with us, the pupils all gained valuable insights into the world of writing.

Spirited Sports Triumphs

This week was filled with remarkable achievements and performances across various sports, including national finals and competitions in football, squash and fencing and two regional tournaments in hockey!

The U13 mixed football team participated in the ISFA national final, delivering an exciting game against Trinity Croydon, ultimately finishing as runners-up. Despite the loss, the team's spirited performance was celebrated by the Head of Football, Mr Hooper, who praised their positive attitude and sportsmanship both on and off the pitch:

'We are so proud of the team and the whole squad of U13s, who have all played a part in this age group making the national final. Today was a fantastic experience and Truro played good, exciting football, which resulted in a fantastic game. More pleasingly, the attitude of the players off the pitch, showed all that is good about this team and Truro School, and they were outstanding ambassadors. I received so many positive comments from the ISFA officials and Trinity's parents about our players, which were well deserved. We would also like to thank the parents, grandparents, family members and friends, who supported the team in the final, with over 50 people cheering on the team, it was a memorable occasion.'

Meanwhile, the Truro School fencing team excelled at the Public Schools Fencing Championships in London, securing three overall team trophies and achieving remarkable individual performances, including victories in various categories with Lexie winning the Girls' Senior Sabre, Sam winning the Boys' Senior Sabre and Chris winning the Boys' Junior Sabre.

Well done to Lauren who finished in the top 4 of the Junior Girls' Sabre, Sarang who finished in the top 8 of the Junior Boys' Sabre and Daisy who finished 2nd in the Junior Girls' Epee competition, narrowly losing to the current GB ranked number 1.

At the Fencing Scottish Youth Championships, Lauren A competed in both the Under 17 and Under 20 on the same day. She claimed the gold in the Under 17 and a bronze in the Under 20. Well done!

In the U13 netball county tournament, Truro School displayed exceptional skill and determination, securing a commendable second-place finish. Despite facing tough opponents, the team's outstanding cooperation and support for each other were evident throughout the competition, earning praise from their coaches Miss Davies and Miss Bickley.

The girls' tennis team played against Exmouth in a high-stakes match, showcasing resilience and sportsmanship despite missing two key players due to illness. Despite narrowly losing in both singles and doubles matches, the girls demonstrated great compassion and played exceptional tennis.

In addition to team sports, individual achievements were celebrated as well. Kenny represented Cornwall athletics club in cross-country matches, finishing an impressive third overall in the U17 boys category after competing in several challenging races over the winter.

Furthermore, the 1st and 2nd Year girls demonstrated their football prowess at the Biggest Ever Football Session tournament, progressing to the final without conceding a goal. Although they narrowly missed out on victory, their skill and understanding of the game secured them a spot in the spring games finals at Bodmin.

Overall, it was a week filled with triumphs, showcasing the talent, dedication, and sportsmanship of Truro School's students across a diverse range of sports. From netball courts to fencing championships, each achievement reflects the school's commitment to excellence in sports and character development.
